FRUITMEN ARE WORRIED OVER SWELLING BUDS

Robert C. Lott, Aspers R. 1, president of the Adams County Fruit Growers' association, said today that if the present warm weather continues peach blossoms will be open within the next several days. Peach tree budding is about one month ahead of schedule right now.

Lott said that the present situation "doesn't look so good." He disclosed that reports as of Sunday from the Arendtsville fruit laboratory showed that the buds on fruit trees in general in the county were at approximately the same stage as

Special Meeting

A special meeting of county fruit growers has been called because of the unusual weather conditions.

All association members are urged to attend the meeting Friday, at 8 p. m. in the Biglerville auditorium.

J. O. Pepper and G. L. Zundel, extension specialists from State College, are expected to attend to discuss orchard insect and disease condition.

Another feature will be a report of trends and tendencies in the peach situation to be given by Frederic Griest, Flora Dale, who recently attended a meeting of the National Peach Council.

Other topics that will be taken up will be the changes in the spraying schedules made necessary because of the unusual weather, a survey of apples, peaches and cherries in the county, and the farm help situation.

they were April 8 last year—which was considered a normal spring for fruit growing. That would place the general situation as regards apple trees about three weeks ahead of normal.

Usually apple trees are in blossom about the first week in May, but probably the corresponding time in April will see the trees in bloom this year—if the warm weather holds. A number of the early varieties of apples already are showing a quarter of an inch or more of leaf growth, Lott reported.

Danger of Freeze

With spring officially completing its first day today, county fruit men are worried that the exceptionally unseasonable weather will prove a serious handicap to fruit production and may cause a large loss in the 1945 crop if a cold snap comes.

County Farm Agent M. T. Hartman said today that the present rate of development, with no cold weather in the meantime, would put the majority of the county orchards in full bud not later than April 1 and possibly a number of days before that date.

Should such development take place and the county be visited with a cold snap such as that which produced the Palm Sunday snow in 1942 which reached as high as 40 inches in some parts of the county a peach and cherry crop loss as high as 90 per cent or more would be possible.

Good Prospects Otherwise

The orchard men are apprehensive of such a situation. The high temperatures which have been in the 80's for several days have warmed the air and ground to such a degree that large bud development is inevitable. Most of the bud activity has been in the lower elevations although the orchards in the mountainous areas also are registering the development because the higher temperatures have extended there also.

The last year in which such unusual bud development was recorded was in 1938, Hartman reported. That year the peach blossoms were out the first part of April.

The expected cold snap would affect chiefly the cherry and peach crops and the early varieties of apples. The later apples probably would not suffer so much damage, it was predicted. Although a number of peach orchards suffered slow and small preliminary bud development last fall because of the dry weather, the indications to date are for the biggest peach crop in the history of the county.

The winter was regarded by fruitmen as ideal for peach bud development because of the uniformly cold temperature. The constant cold brought about steady development rather than the varying growth that frequently is recorded.

Killed

S. Sgt. Hobart E. Sterner, 22, formerly of Gettysburg and son of Willis Sterner, Baltimore, was killed in action in Germany March 2. He served with the First Army and had been overseas since last August. Memorial services will be held Sunday evening, April 22, at 7:30 o'clock at Bender's Lutheran church.

RED CROSS FUND STILL SHORT OF HALFWAY MARK

Collections for the Adams county 1945 Red Cross War Fund campaign apparently hit a slump today as the drive failed for the second day to go over the half-way mark of $14,000.

Total contributions amounted to $13,909.53 today although a number of large gifts was recorded. A total of $66.77 was contributed by different organizations of the Marsh Creek congregation of the Church of the Brethren. Included was $25 from the Gettysburg Brethren Sunday school, $11.94 from the Gettysburg Church of the Brethren, $13.70 from the Marsh Creek Church of the Brethren and $16.13 from the Friends Grove Church of the Brethren.

List Church Groups

Another church, the Mt. Tabor United Brethren, contributed $57.50 to the fund, and the Arendtsville Reformed Sunday school gave $32.32. The Ever Ready Sunday school class of Flohr's Lutheran church donated $25 and the Light Seekers Sunday School class at the same church gave $20. Two other Flohr's church Sunday school classes, the Walter and Clarence Swisher class and the Happy Teen class, gave $10.03 and $2, respectively.

One of the other two Sunday school class donations recorded today was a $12 gift from the Volunteer Sunday school at Biglerville. The Loyal Workers class of the McKnighttown Reformed church gave $2.

2 EX-COLLEGE STUDENTS SLAIN

Two former fraternity brothers at Gettysburg college, both infantry lieutenants in the First Army, have been killed in action on the western front, according to word reaching the college this morning.

The victims were Lt. Charles Fite, formerly of Pittsburgh, alumnus in the class of 1942, and Lt. Ray Musselman, Norristown, former varsity football player at the college and former member of the class of 1944. Lieutenant Fite was killed in action in Germany with the First Army on February 27, three days after his 25th birthday anniversary. Lieutenant Musselman was slain March 3 in First Army action, presumably in Germany.

Both were members of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity at the college. Fite was an honor ROTC student at the college and went directly into the regular army after graduation. He was formerly captain of the college chapter of the Scabbard and Blade. His mother, now residing in Pittsburgh, and a sister, Mrs. Kaye Kerr, whose husband is serving in the Pacific, survive. Fite was a former business manager for The Gettysburgian, college newspaper.

2 LOCAL WOMEN DIE SUDDENLY IN HOMES TUESDAY

Mrs. Edna M. Stoner, 63, 129 Baltimore street, widow of Clarence A. Stoner, died suddenly at her home Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock from a heart attack.

She had been in her usual health Tuesday and was stricken while writing a letter as she was listening to her radio. Before a physician arrived she expired. Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams county coroner, investigated and attributed death to a heart attack.

Mrs. Stoner resided in Gettysburg her entire life. She was a daughter of the late Levi and Jennie (Socks) Weaver. She was a member of St. James Lutheran church and the Mite society of the church; president of the Sunday school class taught by Mrs. Earl J. Bowman, and was a member of the Eastern Star, of Gettysburg. Her husband died in 1937.

Surviving are 11 children, Miss Mildred Stoner, at home; Clarence E., a teacher at Conley high school, Pittsburgh; J. Ralph, Biglerville; Mrs. Harry W. Weber, Harrisburg; Donald W., physicist at the Naval Proving Grounds, Dahlgren, Va.; Lt. Cmdr. David C. (MCO), Washington, D. C.; U. S. Naval hospital, Bethesda, Md.; Mrs. William Warlow, Mullica Hill, N. J.; Mrs. John K. Hellig, York; Lt. Robert W., U. S. Army, Ft. McClellan, Ala.; Pvt. James N., somewhere in England, and S. 1/C P. Frederick, Gulfport, Miss.; 18 grandchildren, and one sister, Mrs. C. F. Solt, West Middle street.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Mrs. Ella Stallsmith, 83, widow of Harry M. Stallsmith, died at her home, 54 East Stevens street, Tuesday evening at 7:15 o'clock from a cerebral hemorrhage following a stroke Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. She had been in her usual health until stricken.

Mrs. Stallsmith was born in Adams county, a daughter of the late Melchior and Mary C. (Forney) Wolf. She resided in Gettysburg for the last three years and prior to that lived at Guilford Station. Her husband died 18 years ago. She was a member of St. Luke's Lutheran church, Bonneauville.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Myrtle C. Mackley, at home; one sister, Mrs. J. Harry Cruse, Hanover; five grandchildren, and nine great grandchildren.

Your Help Is Needed

"I cannot speak too highly of the service rendered those in service by the Red Cross. The men and women who represent the Red Cross overseas are doing a good job. They serve in the rest areas and as near the front lines as they are permitted. They are serving from our financial support. What we give to the Red Cross it gives to those in service and in need."

This is the tribute paid to the American Red Cross by Captain Joseph "Indian Joe" Reaser, who recently returned from the western front where he was thrice wounded and decorated four times.

The drive to collect $28,000 in donations to the Red Cross War Fund campaign for $200,000,000 has not yet reached the half-way mark in Adams county and there remain but ten days in which to reach the goal.

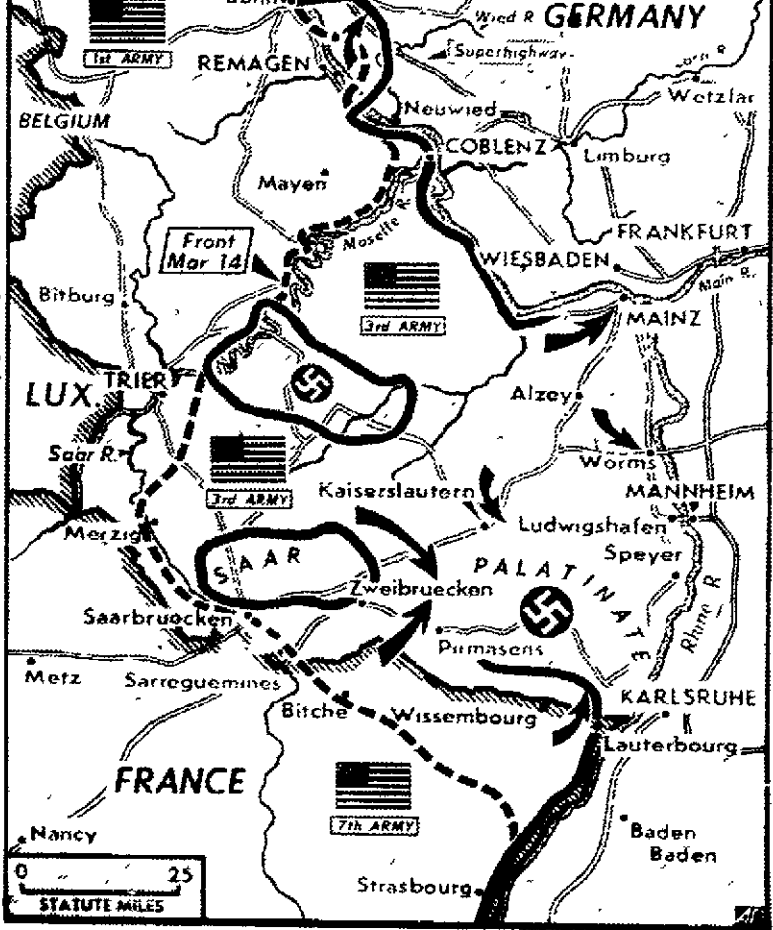

With more than 3,500 Adams county men and women in service the county quota of $28,000 means a contribution of only $8 for each countian in uniform. This is a small donation when compared to the sacrifices and hardships those in service are making and enduring.

The county has not failed in any drive since the outbreak of the war more than three years ago. It has always responded generously to all appeals to aid the war effort... and it cannot afford to fail in this campaign.

If you neglected to send in your contribution do so now. If the solicitors have overlooked you in their canvass of the county, it was an oversight. Do not let that oversight keep you from giving your share in the world's greatest humanitarian agency... The American Red Cross.

Third And Seventh Armies Join

Arrows indicate where units of the U. S. Third and Seventh armies formed a junction near Kaiserslautern, bottling up much of the German First Army. American forces captured Saarbrücken, Zweibrücken, and Worms. To the north the U. S. First Army continued to expand its bridgehead on the east bank of the Rhine.

T. Sgt. K. R. Carbaugh Crew Chief For C-47

A. U. S. Troop Carrier Base in the European Theater of Operations—Technical Sergeant Kenneth R. Carbaugh, whose mother, Mrs. Susan Herr, lives in Fairfield, Pa., is now stationed overseas in the European Theater of Operations with his 442nd Troop Carrier Group. He has just recently been authorized to wear a fourth battle star on his European Theater of Operations ribbon.

As crew-chief on a troop carrying C-47, his big job is overhauling or "engine changes."

The 442nd Troop Carrier Group is one of the groups which have figured in the invasions of both northern and southern France, as well as Holland, and are highly specialized, mobile organizations trained for months ahead of time to drop paratroops and para-supplies, or release gliders, within enemy territories. All such Troop Carrier units are under the command of Major General Paul L. Williams and form the U. S. Troop Carrier Forces, the American air component of the First Allied Airborne Army.

File Transcripts In Court Cases

Two transcripts were filed today at the office of Clerk of the Courts Mrs. Emma S. Sheffer by county justices of the peace—one in a case of failing to stop at the scene of an accident and the second for desertion and non-support.

Justice Howard G. Blocher, Littlestown, filed a transcript in the case against Earl Woods, charged by an officer from the local substation of the state police with failing to stop at the scene of an accident in Germany township February 11. Woods signed a plea of guilty to the charge and is being held under $500 bail for his appearance in sentence court, April 28.

The second transcript was in the desertion and non-support action brought by Mrs. Mae E. Wolf against her husband, Nelson A. Wolf, both of Hamilton township. Wolf posted $300 bail before Justice Claude S. Staley's New Oxford, for desertion and non-support court, April 20.

3rd And 7th Pile Up Saarland Victories

Paris, March 21 (AP)—The German debacle in the Saarland and Palatinate appeared likely today as cost Hitler's badly bled forces close to 100,000 casualties as the U. S. Third Army closed to within six miles of the great chemical center of Ludwigshafen-Mannheim and fought inside Mainz.

Two German armies, the First and the Seventh, either were wiped out or doomed except for scattered elements.

At supreme headquarters, it was estimated that the swift Third Army of Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., alone had herded an estimated 30,000 Nazis into prison pens in 48 hours as it and Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's Seventh Army closed new traps which might boost the overall total of captured in the whirlwind campaign to 75,000.

The Seventh Army, driving up from the southern bases of the Saarland and Palatinate, did not even tabulate its prisoners beyond the first 6,000.

The rich Saar valley, with its steel mills and vast coal deposits, was won, taking from Germany her third largest industrial sector.

15 Miles a Day
Important cities such as Saarbrücken (population 135,000), Kaiserslautern (61,000), Worms (50,000), and Zweibrücken (16,000) were captured by the surging American Third and Seventh Armies.

Some divisions advanced 15 miles or more a day. The destruction of the German forces was so complete it seemed doubtful that Hitler's army could rally for a stand in strength east of the Rhine—where greater offensives currently were in the making.

Extension of the First Army's east Rhine bridgehead to a deployment area at least 25 miles long and up to nine wide underscored the clearout threat to the Ruhr, invaded on the west and threatened by Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' troops which captured Beul, Bonn suburb 14 miles south of the Ruhr. General Eisenhower warned that the Ruhr, the source of 75 per cent of all German war production in 1942, was next in line of conquest.

Nazis' Best Faid
Already the lack of punching power east of the Rhine was apparent in German ranks. Prisoners plodded dejectedly to the rear in uncounted thousands. The enemy had thrown the best troops saved from the First Parachute and Sixth Panzer armies at the Remagen bridgehead and failed to check its expansion.

The enemy was falling back upon the narrow Sieg and Wied rivers, plainly despairing of driving the Americans from the west bank of the Rhine.

To the north, the American Ninth, British Second and Canadian First stood in strength opposite the cities of Duesseldorf and Duisburg and engaged in vigorous patrolling over the wide reaches of the lower Rhine. Weather was favorable and improving daily.

Patch Takes 9 Cities
Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's Seventh Army captured at least nine cities and towns after forging the trap around the Saarland in conjunction with Patton's Third Army 12 miles west of Kaiserslautern. The two armies were squeezing German stragglers in a double pincer.

Among places captured were Niederwuerbach, Hassel, Kinkel, the steel producing city of St. Ingbert (23,000) and Homburg (26,000), on the eastern boundary of the Saarland.

The 103d (Cactus) Division of Maj. Gen. Anthony C. McAuliffe, hero of Bastogne, moved seven miles north of Wissembourg and captured 1,000 prisoners, 14 of whom asked the honor of surrendering personally to the Washington general.

Up to yesterday, Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army had inflicted 45,000 casualties on the German First and Seventh Armies in the Saarland, Palatinate and Hesse. He added 8,229 prisoners to that yesterday and still had 20,000 awaiting transport to cages. The Seventh Army, serving as an anvil for Patton's hammer blows from the north, had captured 6,040 prisoners by yesterday and inflicted some thousands more casualties in killed and wounded.

Nearing Twin Cities
Scores upon scores of lesser villages fell to both armies. At least three pockets of Germans lay behind Allied lines awaiting death or capture.

The largest trap was a Saarland pocket of less than 80 square miles around Saarbrücken; lesser pockets were near Trarven and east of Kirm. At the pace Patton's tanks were

Nazi Debacle Costs Hitler 100,000 Men

By MORRIS LANDSBERG
U. S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Guam, March 21 (AP)—At least 17 Japanese warships, including a 45,000-ton super-battleship and eight aircraft carriers, were crippled Monday by more than 1,000 American carrier planes which hunted down the bulk of the enemy home fleet hiding in Nippon's 240-mile-long inland sea.

The audacious raiders from Vice Adm. Marc A. Mitscher's world's largest task force, penetrating a hitherto untouched area which Japan considered safe for her Navy, also destroyed 475 enemy planes Sunday and Monday and damaged well over 100 more.

Not one American warship was sunk, although one was damaged seriously and others sustained minor blows as the Japanese home-based air force sent wave on wave against Mitscher's armada. All ships moved away under their own power.

Combat losses of the carrier planes "were extremely light."

These first fragmentary accounts of the most daring naval action of the Pacific war were pieced together today from a preliminary report of Adm. Raymond A. Spruance of the U. S. Fifth Fleet and first hand accounts of pilots given to Associated Press Correspondent Hamilton W. Faron with Mitscher's task force.

Take Heavy Toll

The fliers, who swept over Japan's major naval bases and scores of air bases assigned to defend them, told Faron their bombs and rockets smashed into:

A battleship of the Yamato class. (The 45,000-ton Musashi was sunk last October in the battle of Leyte gulf in the Philippines and her sister ship, the Yamato, was damaged. They were Japan's two biggest battleships.)

A battleship converted into a big aircraft carrier.

Three large aircraft carriers.

Four small escort type carriers.

A heavy cruiser.

A light cruiser.

Four destroyers.

A destroyer escort.

A submarine.

In addition, six small surface craft, including one oiler, were sunk. Seven others, including two oilers and four large cargo ships, probably were sunk.

(Faron's at-the-scene figures were a bit more definite than those in a Navy communique listing 19 to 17 enemy warships damaged, six "small freighters" sunk and seven "freighters" damaged, although the totals coincided.)

The carrier planes cratered airfields, attacked airplane factories, destroyed plane hangars, arsenals, oil stores and workshops.

The Japanese warships, identified by Adm. Chester W. Nimitz as "the principal units of the Japanese fleet" hurried for shelter as the raiders bored in.

Mitscher led just what blunt-spoken Adm. William F. Halsey said would have to be done to the Japanese fleet. He went in after it.

His planes scored the first telling blow on Nippon's Navy since the (Please Turn to Page 2)

Third And Seventh Armies Join

Arrows indicate where units of the U. S. Third and Seventh armies formed a junction near Kaiserslautern, bottling up much of the German First Army. American forces captured Saarbrücken, Zweibrücken, and Worms. To the north the U. S. First Army continued to expand its bridgehead on the east bank of the Rhine.

3rd And 7th Pile Up Saarland Victories

By JAMES M. LONG

Paris, March 21 (AP)—The German debacle in the Saarland and Palatinate appeared likely today to cost Hitler's badly bled forces close to 100,000 casualties as the U. S. Third Army closed to within six miles of the great chemical center of Ludwigshafen-Mannheim and fought inside Mainz.

Two German armies, the First and the Seventh, either were wiped out or doomed except for scattered elements.

At supreme headquarters, it was estimated that the swift Third Army of Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., alone had herded an estimated 30,000 Nazis into prison pens in 48 hours as it and Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's Seventh Army closed new traps which might boost the overall total of captured in the whirlwind campaign to 75,000.

The Seventh Army, driving up from the southern bases of the Saarland and Palatinate, did not even tabulate its prisoners beyond the first 6,000.

The rich Saar valley, with its steel mills and vast coal deposits, was won, taking from Germany her third largest industrial sector.

15 Miles a Day

Important cities such as Saarbrücken (population 135,000), Kaiserslautern (61,000), Worms (50,000), and Zweibrücken (16,000) were captured by the surging American Third and Seventh Armies.

Some divisions advanced 15 miles or more a day. The destruction of the German forces was so complete it seemed doubtful that Hitler's army could rally for a stand in strength east of the Rhine—where greater offensives currently were in the making.

Extension of the First Army's east Rhine bridgehead to a deployment area at least 25 miles long and up to nine wide underscored the clearcut threat to the Ruhr, invaded on the west and threatened by Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' troops which captured Beul, Bonn suburb 14 miles south of the Ruhr. General Eisenhower warned that the Ruhr, the source of 75 per cent of all German war production in 1942, was next in line of conquest.

Nazis' Best Failed

Already the lack of punching power east of the Rhine was apparent in German ranks. Prisoners plodded dejectedly to the rear in uncounted thousands. The enemy had thrown the best troops saved from the First Parachute and Sixth Panzer armies at the Remagen bridgehead and failed to check its expansion.

The enemy was falling back upon the narrow Sieg and Wied rivers, plainly despairing of driving the Americans from the west bank of the Rhine.

To the north, the American Ninth, British Second and Canadian First stood in strength opposite the cities of Duesseldorf and Duisburg and engaged in vigorous patrolling over the wide reaches of the lower Rhine. Weather was favorable and improving daily.

Patch Takes 9 Cities

Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's Seventh Army captured at least nine cities and towns after forging the trap around the Saarland in conjunction with Patton's Third Army 12 miles west of Kaiserslautern. The two armies were squeezing German stragglers in a double pincer.

Among places captured were Niederwuerbach, Hassel, Kinkel, the steel producing city of St. Ingbert (23,000) and Homburg (26,000), on the eastern boundary of the Saarland.

The 103d (Cactus) Division of Maj. Gen. Anthony C. McAuliffe, hero of Bastogne, moved seven miles north of Wissemburg and captured 1,000 prisoners, 14 of whom asked the honor of surrendering personally to the Washington general.

Up to yesterday, Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army had inflicted 45,000 casualties on the German First and Seventh Armies in the Saarland, Palatinate and Hesse. He added 8,229 prisoners to that yesterday and still had 20,000 awaiting transport to cages. The Seventh Army, serving as an anvil for Patton's hammer blows from the north, had captured 6,040 prisoners by yesterday and inflicted some thousands more casualties in killed and wounded.

Nearing Twin Cities

Scores upon scores of lesser villages fell to both armies. At least three pockets of Germans lay behind Allied lines awaiting death or capture.

The largest trap was a Saarland pocket of less than 80 square miles around Saarbrücken; lesser pockets were near Traven and east of Kirm. At the pace Patton's tanks were

SCRIBE SAYS GERMANS MAY QUIT ANY TIME

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press War Analyst)

So let's talk about war's end in Europe and peace and all that sort of thing—this being the beginning of spring, which not only is the season peculiar to hope but is the inspiration of great deeds.

Of course we aren't supposed to discuss peace—not right out in the open—because that might stimulate over-optimism. I'm well aware that I shall receive letters, written both in sorrow and in anger, accusing me of codding complacency. However, this isn't a bad time to give peace the "once over," and not wait for the war to blow up in our faces without warning.

Surely we don't need a soothsayer to tell us we are near the end of the European war. Indeed we are so close to it that the Nazis might quit any time!

Must Be No Delusions
Having said this we must—if we are to justify discussion of early peace—at once recognize that the fighting might continue for a considerable time if Hitler and Goebbels cling to their mad scheme of battling to a finish. Even so, it will be surprising if it goes further than late spring or early summer.

The Nazi leaders have no delusions about their defeat. Despite their typically Prussian effort to bully the Allies into a compromise, the Hitlerites have been fishing for peace—and that's official.

When the armistice comes, it may arrive out of the blue without warning, as the result of sub-rosa discussions of a "semi-official" character.

People Will Quit
Hitlerdom is cracking up fast, both militarily and politically. I always have thought—and have so indicated in this column—that the collapse of Germany would be premised on one of two things: (1) The loss of Hitler's personal leadership—since he had been Nazism's very mainspring, without which the regime must perish; and (2) deterioration of the German military machine to the point where the Allies would be able to crash through the last great barriers of Hitler's inner fortress—the Siegfried line and the Rhine in the west, and the powerful Oder defenses in the East.

We are on the verge of fulfilling the military requirement. The vastly superior Allied armies are tearing the "invulnerable" defenses to shreds.

The other requirement—loss of Hitler's leadership—already has been fulfilled. He is reported to be a broken shell of a man for whom Hitler's Hamman and Propaganda Minister Goebbels are ghosting in an effort to keep the facts from the German public. But truth will out, and the people will quit, despite Hitler's rule of death, when finally they realize Hitler is finished.

PASSENGER TIRE QUOTA SLASHED

Because of a decline in civilian tire production, this 10-county district's April passenger tire ration quota has been slashed from 12,074 to 7,575, it was announced today at the District OPA office in Harrisburg. The cut is in line with a 37 1/2 per cent reduction throughout the country.

OPA said it had been informed by the rubber bureau of the War Production Board that the reason for a sharp dropping off in passenger tire production was the seriously diminishing supply of carbon black.

Considerable quota increases in truck and bus categories and slight increases in tractor-implement categories were granted to cushion the big impact of demand in the warm-weather months.

Because of the seriousness of the tire supply situation, OPA said that beginning April 1 a tighter control of tire certificate accounting will go into effect. A procedure has been devised whereby tire manufacturers and factory branches will report to OPA monthly the number of tires shipped and the number of certificates received.

Restaurants May Serve After Curfew

All restaurants without liquor licenses may now remain open after midnight as long as they wish. E. A. Crouse, local office manager, USES, announced today in a move to liberalize curfew restrictions on eating places patronized by war and other essential workers.

Mr. Crouse, pointed out that establishments with liquor licenses must apply to the area office of the War Manpower Commission for exemptions. Those who close their places at midnight but continue to service food to war workers may qualify providing adjacent war plants certify they are necessary to the community.

But night clubs and other amusement spots must continue to observe the midnight closing rule and are not eligible for exemptions, he said.

RESOLUTION BY WORLEY PASSES

A resolution calling for appointment of a six-member legislative committee to "codify, revise and re-state" the penal laws of Pennsylvania—introduced by Representative Francis Worley of Adams county—was sent to the state senate for concurrence today after being passed unanimously Tuesday night by the House, Harrisburg news dispatches state.

The resolution provides for the appointment of three members of the House and three from the Senate to a commission to codify and re-state the penal laws in preparation for a report to the 1947 session of the Legislature. The commission would serve without special compensation.

Representative Worley said his resolution has the backing of Dean Walter Hittler of the Dickinson law school. He said Dean Hittler appeared before the House Rules committee recently during a hearing on the resolution and told the committee that the 1939 consolidation of the penal code was not thorough or full but that the penal laws were "just pasted together" in that effort.

Mr. Worley said that a revision and codification of the penal laws will be a help to laymen and attorneys alike and will speed up justice by eliminating the necessity for waiting for Supreme court rulings on cases decided variously by county courts where confusing sections of the law are involved.

House action Tuesday was taken after the Rules committee reported the resolution favorably.

NEGRO WACS FOUND GUILTY

Fort Devens, Mass., March 21 (AP)—Convicted of refusal to obey orders, four negro WACs were sentenced last night to one year at hard labor and to be discharged dishonorably.

The quartet had contended they were ordered to perform menial tasks in Lovell General hospital because of their color.

Two male negro officers and two white WAC officers were members of the seven-man court.

During the court martial, Pvt. Alice D. Young of Washington testified that Col. Walter M. Grandall, commanding officer of the hospital, had told her "They want no black WACs at the motor pool" after she had requested a transfer to the pool on March 9.

Private Young's statement was supported by Pvt. Alberta Goss of Tusculum, Ala., a witness.

They said Colonel Grandall made the declaration at a meeting that followed a protest meeting of WACs at which negro members complained of discrimination.

The two WACs testified that they felt there was discrimination because white WACs were not forced to do the same type of work as negro personnel and because, they said, Colonel Grandall told them negro WACs were supposed to do "the dirty work."

Colonel Grandall did not testify. He is on a 30-day leave and was not present at the court martial.

SCRIBE SAYS GERMANS MAY QUIT ANY TIME

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press War Analyst)

So let's talk about war's end in Europe and peace and all that sort of thing—this being the beginning of spring, which not only is the season peculiar to hope but is the inspiration of great deeds.

Of course we aren't supposed to discuss peace—not right out in the open—because that might stimulate over-optimism. I'm well aware that I shall receive letters, written both in sorrow and in anger, accusing me of codding complacency. However, this isn't a bad time to give peace the "once over," and not wait for the war to blow up in our faces without warning.

Surely we don't need a soothsayer to tell us we are near the end of the European war. Indeed we are so close to it that the Nazis might quit any time!

Having said this we must—if we are to justify discussion of early peace—at once recognize that the fighting might continue for a considerable time if Hitler and Goebbels cling to their mad scheme of battling to a finish. Even so, it will be surprising if it goes further than late spring or early summer.

The Nazi leaders have no delusions about their defeat. Despite their typically Prussian effort to bully the Allies into a compromise, the Hitlerites have been fishing for peace—and that's official.

When the armistice comes, it may arrive out of the blue without warning, as the result of sub-rosa discussions of a "semi-official" character.

People Will Quit

Hitlerdom is cracking up fast, both militarily and politically. I always have thought—and have so indicated in this column—that the collapse of Germany would be premised on one of two things: (1) The loss of Hitler's personal leadership—since he had been Nazism's very mainspring, without which the regime must perish, and (2) deterioration of the German military machine to the point where the Allies would be able to crash through the last great barriers of Hitler's inner fortress—the Siegfried line and the Rhine in the west, and the powerful Oder defenses in the East.

We are on the verge of fulfilling the military requirement. The vastly superior Allied armies are tearing the "Invulnerable" defenses to shreds.

The other requirement—loss of Hitler's leadership—already has been fulfilled. He is reported to be a broken shell of a man for whom Hitler's Hangman and Propaganda Minister Goebbels are ghosting in an effort to keep the facts from the German public. But truth will out, and the people will quit, when finally they realize Hitler is finished.

PASSENGER TIRE QUOTA SLASHED

Because of a decline in civilian tire production, this 10-county district's April passenger tire ration quota has been slashed from 12,074 to 7,575. It was announced today at the District OPA office in Harrisburg. The cut is in line with a 37 1/2 per cent reduction throughout the country.

OPA said it had been informed by the rubber bureau of the War Production Board that the reason for a sharp dropping off in passenger tire production was the seriously diminishing supply of carbon black.

Considerable quota increases in truck and bus categories and slight increases in tractor-implement categories were granted to cushion the big impact of demand in the warm-weather months.

Because of the seriousness of the tire supply situation, OPA said that beginning April 1 a tighter control of the certificate accounting will go into effect. A procedure has been devised whereby tire manufacturers and factory branches will report to OPA monthly the number of tires shipped and the number of certificates received.

Restaurants May Serve After Curfew

All restaurants without liquor licenses may now remain open after midnight as long as they wish, E. A. Crouse, local office manager, USES, announced today in a move to liberalize curfew restrictions on eating places patronized by war and other essential workers.

Mr. Crouse, pointed out that establishments with liquor licenses must apply to the area office of the War Manpower Commission for exemptions. Those who close their places at midnight but continue to service food to war workers may qualify providing adjacent war plants certify they are necessary to the community.

But night clubs and other amusement spots must continue to observe the midnight closing rule and are not eligible for exemptions, he said.

RESOLUTION BY WORLEY PASSES

A resolution calling for appointment of a six-member legislative committee to "codify, revise and re-state" the penal laws of Pennsylvania—introduced by Representative Francis Worley of Adams county—was sent to the state senate for concurrence today after being passed unanimously Tuesday night by the House, Harrisburg news dispatches state.

The resolution provides for the appointment of three members of the House and three from the Senate to a committee to codify and re-state the penal laws in preparation for a report to the 1947 session of the Legislature. The commission would serve without special compensation.

Representative Worley said his resolution has the backing of Dean Walter Hitchler of the Dickinson law school. He said Dean Hitchler appeared before the House Rules committee recently during a hearing on the resolution and told the committee that the 1939 consolidation of the penal code was not thorough or full but that the penal laws were "just pasted together" in that effort.

Mr. Worley said that a revision and codification of the penal laws will be a help to laymen and attorneys alike and will speed up justice by eliminating the necessity for waiting for Supreme court rulings on cases decided variously by county courts where confusing sections of the law are involved.

House action Tuesday was taken after the Rules committee reported the resolution favorably.

NEGRO WACS FOUND GUILTY

Fort Devens, Mass., March 21 (AP)—Convicted of refusal to obey orders, four negro WACS were sentenced last night to one year at hard labor and to be discharged dishonorably.

The quartet had contended they were ordered to perform menial tasks in Lovell General hospital because of their color.

Two male negro officers and two white WAC officers were members of the seven-man court.

During the court martial, Pvt. Alice D. Young of Washington testified that Col. Walter M. Crandall, commanding officer of the hospital, had told her "They want no black WACs at the motor pool" after she had requested a transfer to the pool on March 9.

Private Young's statement was supported by Pvt. Alberta Goss of Tusculum, Ala., a witness.

They said Colonel Crandall made the declaration at a meeting that followed a protest meeting of WACs at which negro members complained of discrimination.

The two WACs testified that they felt there was discrimination because white WACs were not forced to do the same type of work as negro personnel and because, they said, Colonel Crandall told them negro WACs were supposed to do "the dirty work."

Colonel Crandall did not testify. He is on a 30-day leave and was not present at the court martial.

The incomplete reports of the Navy specified few targets. But the planes were within attacking range of such points as Yawata, home of the huge Imperial Iron and Steel Works, one of the greatest centers of industry outside of western Europe and America.

UNDS REFUSED N GYPSY MOTH IGHT IN EAST

An Associated Press dispatch from Washington, Tuesday, disclosed that the House Appropriations committee declined to authorize expansion of the program to combat Gypsy moth, a parasite feeding on fruit and rest trees in northeastern United States. A large part of the increased in was to have been ear-marked use in Pennsylvania.

The Gypsy moth, which is a problem in Adams county, was brought this county in 1868 for experimental purposes by the silkworm industry. The moths accidentally escaped and since have become an increasingly costly enemy of fruit and rest trees.

Despite testimony by Dr. P. N. N. and chief of the Agriculture department's bureau of entomology to plant quarantine, that "the Gypsy moth is getting away from us," the committee recommended no increase in the $350,000 annual appropriation.

New Jersey Spent a Million

The Department of Agriculture asked for an additional $164,565, early two-thirds of which would be spent in Pennsylvania.

At present, the federal government is spending about 100,000 of $350,000 fund in the Pennsylvania anthracite region to study and control the pest. The Pennsylvania legislature is providing an additional $140,000 a year, the committee was informed.

Witnesses who urged the increase included, in addition to Annand, J. Flood and Walter, Pennsylvania Democrats, and Rep. Auchincloss (R., N. J.).

Auchincloss said it cost New Jersey $1,000,000 to wipe out the pest after a previous invasion in 1920.

Plant Strawberries Early—Set strawberry plants as soon as the soil is in condition, advises J. L. Seantney, fruit extension specialist at the Pennsylvania State college. It isn't necessary to wait until the danger of frost is past. More growth will be using their own plants. Commercial stock is short.

April Best Month For Planting Trees

Trees provide an added harvest on the farm and afford many other benefits, especially when planted with definite objectives in mind, extension foresters point out by way of reminding farmers this is the season to set them out.

April is the usual planting time. While nursery stock has been short, Walter W. Simonds, extension forester at the Pennsylvania State college, believes it may still be possible to have orders filled.

Citing instances where trees of short rotation, such as Christmas trees, have been financing the education of farm youths, Mr. Simonds suggests that trees can be utilized for unusual cash needs, or by staggered plantings can be made to produce an annual cash crop.

Trees, he points out, give a farm better balance provide sanctuary for friendly, native wild life, protect farm buildings and livestock as windbreaks or snowbreaks, prevent soil erosion, and when planted above farm springs help sustain an even flow of waters.

Pointing out that farmers already have their grass and clover sown, Dr. Giau suggests that home owners wishing to improve lawns start in early spring. He recommends applying lime, if tests show a need for "sweetening" the soil. Fertilizing with 10 pounds of superphosphate or ammoniated superphosphate (4-16-0) per 1,000 square feet is also recommended.

The agronomist strongly recommends removing twigs and trash with a leaf rake. Re-seeding, he said, can be made right through crabgrass.

For re-seeding bare spots, 2 pounds of seed should be mixed with a bushel of screened garden soil.

SEED LAWNS IN EARLY SPRING

"The earlier, the better" is a splendid rule for spring seeding of lawns, reports Dr. Fred V. Grau, extension agronomist at the Pennsylvania State college. He explained that seeding while the weather provides alternate freezing and thawing is fine for getting an early "catch" of lawn grasses.

Pointing out that farmers already have their grass and clover sown, Dr. Giau suggests that home owners wishing to improve lawns start in early spring. He recommends applying lime, if tests show a need for "sweetening" the soil. Fertilizing with 10 pounds of superphosphate or ammoniated superphosphate (4-16-0) per 1,000 square feet is also recommended.

The agronomist strongly recommends removing twigs and trash with a leaf rake. Re-seeding, he said, can be made right through crabgrass.

Treat Tea Seed—For best results in home or commercial gardens, pea seeds should be treated to guard against decay and damping off, advises L. O. Weaver, extension plant pathologist at the Pennsylvania State college. Use half teaspoon of Sperson per pound of seed.

Interesting News Of Upper Adams Countians And Their Enterprises

FUNDS REFUSED IN GYPSY MOTH FIGHT IN EAST

An Associated Press dispatch from Washington, Tuesday, disclosed that the House Appropriations committee declined to authorize expansion of the program to combat Gypsy moth, a parasite feeding on fruit and forest trees in northeastern United States. A large part of the increased sum was to have been earmarked for use in Pennsylvania.

The Gypsy moth, which is a problem in Adams county, was brought to this county in 1868 for experimental purposes by the silkworm industry. The moths accidentally escaped and since have become an increasingly costly enemy of fruit and forest trees.

Despite testimony by Dr. P. N. Annand, chief of the Agriculture Department's bureau of entomology and plant quarantine, that "the Gypsy moth is getting away from us," the committee recommended no increase in the $350,000 annual appropriation.

New Jersey Spent a Million
The Department of Agriculture had asked for an additional $164,565, nearly two-thirds of which would have been spent in Pennsylvania.

At present, the federal government is spending about 100,000 of its $350,000 fund in the Pennsylvania anthracite region to study and control the pest. The Pennsylvania Legislature is providing an additional $140,000 a year, the committee was informed.

Witnesses who urged the increase included, in addition to Annand, Reps. Flood and Walter, Pennsylvania Democrats, and Rep. Auchincloss (R., N. J.).

Auchincloss said it cost New Jersey $1,000,000 to wipe out the pest after a previous invasion in 1920.

Plant Strawberries Early—Set strawberry plants as soon as the soil is in condition, advises J. L. Mecartney, fruit extension specialist at the Pennsylvania State college. It isn't necessary to wait until the danger of frost is past. More growers will be using their own plants since commercial stock is short.

As early as 1633, apples were being cultivated close to what is now Annapolis Royal, Nova Scotia.

At the time of the Roman Empire, life expectancy was about 23 years; in 1850, 40 years; and in 1900, 47 years.

April Best Month For Planting Trees

Trees provide an added harvest on the farm and afford many other benefits, especially when planted with definite objectives in mind, extension foresters point out by way of reminding farmers this is the season to set them out.

April is the usual planting time. While nursery stock has been short, Walter W. Simonds, extension forester at the Pennsylvania State college, believes it may still be possible to have orders filled.

Citing instances where trees of short rotation, such as Christmas trees, have been financing the education of farm youths, Mr. Simonds suggests that trees can be utilized for unusual cash needs, or by staggered plantings can be made to produce an annual cash crop.

Trees, he points out, give a farm better balance, provide sanctuary for friendly, native wild life, protect farm buildings and livestock as windbreaks or snowbreaks, prevent soil erosion, and when planted above farm springs help sustain an even flow of waters.

VERNAL EQUINOX
The sun is moving northward. It's the vernal equinox!
It is springtime now, as reckoned by all calendars and clocks.
Day and night this date are equal and by scientific lore Grim, old winter has departed;
gentle spring is at the door!

There's a pair of robins nesting on my narrow window sill.
They come northward right on schedule, and I think they always will.
'Tis the sun they seem to follow;
but old winter lingers on,
when by schedules astronomical, from our zones it should have gone.
There are tulips up and budding, and they're tempting me once more
To get out and start my garden as I've often done before,
But I'll wait a little longer, for I've found it doesn't pay To think winter's really over till the merry month of May.
Let the calendar proclaim it; let star-gazers call it spring;
I remember Old Man Winter does a lot of lingering.
March may fool all things in nature—bird and bud and violet, I'll not doff my winter flannels—we may have a snowstorm yet.

Today's Talk
THE INTELLECTUAL AND SPIRITUAL CRISIS
It is an omen of better times, and of a better world, when we read of the plans being discussed by great leaders and rulers as to how to face the serious conditions sure to follow upon the ending of this tragic war.
Crisis after crisis will have to be faced. Financial, economic and political. Keen and able minds now are delving into each of these, but the greatest crisis of all to be faced is the intellectual and spiritual crisis, about which little is being either said or done. The millions of boys who will return to their country will never again think as they did before they went away. Nothing will be so difficult as the adjustment to a new life.
The years following this world upheaval are going to take more brave thinking and a greater change in the intellectual and spiritual life of peoples than at any other time in all human history.
No permanent peace can be built alone upon the foundations of social, economic or political ideas.
Men's hearts have to be educated and the spiritual life of the world be redeemed. People who trust one another do not fight. They talk things over. But this trust must come from the heart, and not merely from the head. Not until hate and greed die in men's hearts will war die.
Paul Valery said: "We have lost the leisure for maturing." The only lasting love is mature love. That is what the world has been awaiting for centuries. It is difficult to understand why it should take a cruel world war, and a baptism of blood, to teach intelligent men that they should love their neighbor as themselves. But that is what must happen if we are to have permanent peace in the world.
It is perhaps too Utopian to think that we can all love one another throughout the world—but we can get along with one another. But from our hearts must come the substance—not from wise men with great ideas and bankers with bags of gold. It is the hearts of the world that need to be saved from spiritual bankruptcy!
Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Free Mind."
In the 13th century The Hague was merely a hunting lodge for the counts of Holland.

WMC PLAN IN NEW BEDFORD IS ATTACKED
Washington, March 21 (AP)—The New Bedford job transfer program branded a scheme to garner national service legislation, the War Manpower Commission watched today for possible ill effect on the plan elsewhere.
Although WMC Chairman Paul V.
McNutt chose to ignore that part of a blast by the agency's National Labor-Management Policy committee, it was clear manpower officials are concerned lest the charge cause more defiance of the labor diversion directive.
The committee loosed its barrage late yesterday against the so-called forced release program ordered for the Massachusetts community—and thus far shunned there.
Cited As "Guinea Pig"
In a statement splitting with Mc-Nutt, the committee declared WMC appears to have been used as a "cat's paw" and New Bedford as a "guinea pig" by "certain government officials in Washington who favored national service legislation."
The committee, also referring to
"WMC proposals ruled out by a War Department representative," said further that the New Bedford program apparently was an "attempt to persuade the country and Congress that the voluntary system had broken down and that compulsion must be accepted."

Freight Agent Arrives: N. B.
Schnurman, freight agent at Carlisle, arrived in Gettysburg on the Wednesday morning Philadelphia and Reading train to become head of the local Reading freight station.
Mr. Schnurman immediately took up his duties of supervising the work of removing cement bags and other debris from the freight building.
On Friday the Reading men moved from the Western Maryland freight depot where they have been since the consolidation system started.
Hoffman House Opens To Public:
Results of four months work were furniture have transformed the lobby while the distinctive feature upstairs is the sun parlor of Eng-direction of Howard Mittinger, manager of the establishment.

German Revolt To A Sudden End:
Berlin, March 16—The counter-revolution in Germany appeared last night to have reached the end of the road. There is a strong probability that shortly one government will be in control and that President Ebert will come back to Berlin with his ministers.

ably be adopted by all banks in the

Solving Grape Problems
Grape vines occupy their original sites for many years. Therefore, they require carefully planned, systematic feedings to avoid the danger of exhausted soil fertility. They are attacked by several insect enemies which demand prompt control measures. Too, they are susceptible to diseases affecting roots, vines, fol-lage and fruit, all of which call for intelligently employed preventive practices. Of course, the home owner of but a few backyard vines quite logically asks: "How may I care for my grape vines to meet such a complicated program of culture?"
The answers, as well as the methods, are simple. First, give the vines an annual spring feeding of nitrogenous fertilizer. Next, pursue around the year a policy of strict sanitation to prevent the survival of disease organisms and insects. And last, combine the maximum of protection for both fruit and foliage in a schedule of sprays designed to kill insects and prevent diseases.
Nitrate of soda or ammonium sulphate is recommended for spring feeding, applied in a broad band around the base of the vine and worked lightly into the top soil about the time grape leaves appear. Do not apply up near the base, as few feeder roots are located there. Do not allow fertilizer to come into contact with leaves, stems or roots. Use about one-fourth pound per vine for small, newly planted or even for one-year old grape vines, and increase the amount up to one to two pounds for larger and larger vines.
Well rotted manure is beneficial, spaded into the surrounding soil in early March.

Letterkenny Needs
Clerical Workers
Stenographers and typists are needed "urgently" at the Letterkenny Ordnance Depot, Chambersburg, and at several other federal agencies in this area, Miss Sara Furman, area representative for the U. S. Civil Service Commission, announced today.
Salaries for these positions are $1,972 and $1,752, including overtime.
Also needed at Letterkenny are men for positions as traveling automotive technicians. These men must be willing to travel any place throughout the continental United States. For a salary of $1.13 per hour, five years of technical experience, two of which must have been spent in the automotive field, is considered qualifying.
Interested applicants for any of the positions should apply directly to Miss Furman at the Operations building, at Letterkenny, or telephone Chambersburg 2000, extension examination. Those interested in the automotive job also may apply to Arthur W. Warman, secretary of the

Bell Turns Down Place On Bench
Harrisburg, March 21 (AP)—Lt.
Gov. John C. Bell's refusal of a superior court judgeship Tuesday put two attorneys in the forefront for the $18,000 job.
Administration sources said Governor Martin likely would select either Paul A. Mueller, of Lancaster, or John Arnold, of Clearfield for the place.
Common Pleas Judge Fred S.
Reese, of Cumberland county previously had been mentioned in speculation for the vacancy created by death of President Judge William H.
Keller.
Bell turned down Governor Martin's offer to name him to the tribunal, declaring he appreciated "very much the high honor" but believed "I can be of greater service to our state and our party as lieutenant governor."

Altoona Mops Up After Severe Storm
Altoona, Pa., March 21 (AP)— Altoona today cleaned up debris from its streets and hauled water from some basements in the wake of a five-minute wind and hailstorm late Monday.
Heavy winds blew down billboards and trees, and damaged the telephone company's cable system, necessitating temporary suspension of service to 300 in one area.
Water backed up into store and home basements when the sewerage system was unable to handle the sudden downpour.
Fungi are plants devoid of green coloring matter.

Manila, March 21 (AP)—American troops fought their way into the burning city of Iloilo, capital of Panay, as they expanded their hold today on that central Philippine island.
Gen. Douglas MacArthur, announcing that troops of Maj. Gen.
Rapp Brush's 40th Division had reached the outskirts of the city, reported "heavy fires" were burning.
The Americans captured the Iloilo airfield and Carpenter's bridge over the Iloilo river at the eastern approach to the capital.
Another 40th Division column drove 25 miles northward from Sunday's invasion beachhead at Tigbauan, to overrun the coastal plain inland from Iloilo and join forces with strong guerrilla units. Panay is the 25th Philippine island invaded in the liberation campaign.
Other guerrillas, on northern Luzon island, wiped out the Japanese garrison at San Fernando and seized that Lingayen gulf port. San Fernando is the most important port north of Manila and northern terminus of the Manila railroad.
One of the heaviest air strikes against the Japanese in northern Luzon was made by more than 100
Marine dive bombers and Fifth Air Force Mitchells. They hit positions in the Cagayan valley and near Vigan on the west coast.

Peor Digestion? Headachy? Sour or Upset? Tired-Listless?
Do you feel headachy and upset due to poorly digested food? To feel cheerful and happy again your food must be digested properly.
Each day, Nature must produce about two pints of a vital digestive juice to help digest your food. If Nature fails, your food may remain undigested—leaving you headachy and irritable.
Therefore, you must increase the flow of this digestive juice. Carter's Little Liver Pills increase this flow quickly—often in as little as 30 minutes. And, you're on the road to feeling better.
Don't depend on artificial aids to counteract indigestion—when Carter's Little Liver Pills aid digestion after Nature's own order. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills as directed. Get them at any drugstore. Only 25c.

Congressman Gross Says Farm Draft Probe Is Too Late

Washington, D. C., March 20—Representative Chester H. Gross, of the York-Adams-Franklin District, today urged passage of the Lemke resolution calling for an investigation of agricultural deferments, but added his doubts to those of other House members that a probe now would help the food production program for 1945.

"I am afraid it will not serve its purpose because the damage has been done. Acreage is being curtailed at this moment at a terrific rate because many thousands of these farm boys have recently gone into the armed forces and the rest are slated for induction," he asserted.

The congressman spoke during House debate on the resolution for an investigation "to determine who is responsible for the wholesale induction of essential farmers and farm workers, where no replacements are available, in violation of the Tydings amendment, and to determine the effect of such induction upon agricultural production and upon the war effort."

Lining up with the farm bloc which forced passage of the resolution by a vote of 122 to 33, Congressman Gross said that the continued induction of farmers would make the 1945 food production goals impossible. He read figures on induction of farmers from his "home town" newspapers, and said that his "personal knowledge" of some of the farms involved left him in doubt as to how these farmers could continue to operate.

The appearance of gypsies in Europe cannot be traced back further than 1390.

SEWELL SIGNS WITH PIRATES; OTHERS JOIN

By TED MERIE

New York, March 21 (AP)—Truett "Rip" Sewell and his famous "bloopers" pitch will be back with the Pittsburgh Pirates as usual this year. The veteran righthander, who won 21 games last season, signed his contract yesterday.

The Pirates' pitching problems thus diminished. Max Butcher, their 13-game winner in 1944, helped the situation by reporting to the Muncie, Ind., camp.

Elsewhere on the baseball training front:

Brooklyn—Manager Leo Durocher took the offer of President Branch Rickey that he would pay a bonus of $1,000 if Leo would play second base for the first 15 games of the season.

Chicago Cubs—Bob Chipman, No. 1 southpaw, checked into camp last night, saying he's in "pretty good" condition.

Stars Missing

Detroit—Total of 21 players now in camp. Notable absentees include first baseman Rudy York, third baseman Pinky Higgins, pitcher Ruff Gentry and outfielders Jimmy Outlaw and Don Ross.

Cleveland—Vice President Roger Peckinpaugh expected at camp to discuss holdouts Mickey Rocco, Jeff Heath and Roy Cullenbine.

Chicago White Sox—Bill Nagel, back in majors for third time, probably will be shifted from third to first base.

Phillies—Pitchers Louis Luchner and Charley Sproull and catcher Andy Semuick signed.

St. Louis Browns—Pitchers Tex Shirley and Al Hollingsworth bore down hard in batting practice.

Boston Braves—Johnny Hutchings, 260-pound pitcher, hit home run in practice, but fell exhausted as he rounded third. Teammates rushed over, grabbed him by arms and legs and dragged him over home plate.

Boston Red Sox—Outfielder Johnny Lazor, who also can catch, came to terms.

Borowy Signs

New York Giants—A three-game exhibition series was arranged with Baltimore (Md.) naval team for this week-end. The Navy base will provide transportation.

New York Yankees—Hank Borowy, last year's 17-game winner, signed contract.

Washington—Mickey Haefner joined club.

St. Louis Cards—Lost outfielder Danny Litwhiler of Ringtown, Pa., who was inducted into Army for limited service.

Philadelphia Athletics—Jim Pruet, slugging catcher, said he worked off excess fat because he didn't like to see a 208-pounder staring back at him in the mirrors.

Sports Roundup
By HUGH FULLERTON

New York, March 21 (AP)—Track fans, never the ones to be stumped by a mere "impossibility," have come up with a couple of suggestions for remedying the false start ailment.

Carl Hogendorn of North English, Iowa, figures the old one-yard penalty for a break can be applied to indoor dashes simply by advancing the rest of the field a yard.

"In such an event no official times could be allowed," Hogendorn admits, "but who cares about records?"

The athletes and a good many spectators usually are interested in Alfred Falcone of East Hartford, Conn., proposes hanging a big clock in front of the starting line so the runners could watch the seconds tick off and start when a gun was fired automatically.

An electric eye at the finish would be hooked up to record the exact time. That one really would be an invitation for expert gun-jumpers to be in motion when the shot went off.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR
Johnnie Parker, Taunton, Mass. Gazette: "Who said the circus sideshow is dead? With the possible exception of the Siamese twins and Jo-Jo the dog face boy, it looks like major league baseball in 1945 will have everything else."

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE
The first warm day last week, Howard Cann, who coaches basketball and baseball at N.Y.U., found two of his court stars, Al Grenett and Frank Mangiapane, working out with the ball team. They're back indoors for the duration of the N.C.A.A. tournament. Only three of the national league's 13 umpires ever played major league baseball and four of the best never played professionally.

Need Irish estimates that not more than 18 or 20 basketballs were used for Madison Square Garden games this season and a half dozen still are usable. The Philly Convention hall started with six and has five left.

Luke Lindon, who came back from two years in Greenland with a naval construction gang to win a tackle job with the Detroit Lions last fall, is a "test pilot" for army tanks in Detroit. Maybe he's learning how to bust through the Packers' line.

Nelson And Snead Tie In Playoff

Charlotte, N. C., March 21 (AP)—Byron Nelson, the leading money winner this year and last, and Sammy Snead, leading tournament winner, continued their golf marathon today for the $10,000 Charlotte open title—a preview of their scheduled National championship meeting in New York later this season.

The two ace shotmakers who have won 10 of the 13 tournaments played on the winter circuit—Snead six and Nelson four—finished all square at the end of their first 18-hole playoff before some 3,000 customers yesterday, after teeing at 272 for the regulation 72 holes. Each had a 69, three under par.

Fights Last Night
(By The Associated Press)

Brooklyn — Al "Bummy" Davis, 146, Brooklyn, knocked out Rudy Giscombe, 151½, Jersey City, 6.

White Plains, N. Y. — Irish Jimmy Mulligan, 169, Boston, and Coolidge Miller, 165, Brooklyn, drew 8.

Jersey City — Joe Curcio, 147, Newark, outpointed Jerry Fiorello, 153, Brooklyn, 10.

Savannah, Ga. — Carlos Chavez, 129, Chatham Field, TKO Joey Kushner, 128, Syracuse, 3.

Hartford, Conn. — George "Red" Doty, 151, Hartford, TKO Jimmy Mazzio, 150, Passaic, N.Y., 2.

New Bedford, Mass. — Johnny Cool, 134½, Worcester, knocked out Norman See, 134, Montreal, 1.

The word "slang" occurs first in Toldervy's "History of Two Orphans" in 1756.

Mexico City was rebuilt in 1521 by the Spanish.

The history of metal in Canada goes back almost three centuries.

SEWELL SIGNS WITH PIRATES; OTHERS JOIN

By TED MEIER

New York, March 21 (AP)—Truett "Rip" Sewell and his famous "bloopers" pitch will be back with the Pittsburgh Pirates as usual this year. The veteran righthander, who won 21 games last season, signed his contract yesterday.

The Pirates' pitching problems thus diminished. Max Butcher, their 13-game winner in 1944, helped the situation by reporting to the Muncie, Ind., camp.

Elsewhere on the baseball training front:

Brooklyn—Manager Leo Durocher took the offer of President Branch Rickey that he would pay a bonus of $1,000 if Leo would play second base for the first 15 games of the season.

Chicago Cubs—Bob Chipman, No. 1 southpaw, checked into camp last night, saying he's in "pretty good" condition.

Stars Missing
Detroit—Total of 21 players now in camp. Notable absentees include first baseman Rudy York, third baseman Pinky Higgins, pitcher Ruff Gentry and outfielders Jimmy Outlaw and Don Ross.

Cleveland—Vice President Roger Peckinpaugh expected at camp to discuss holdouts Mickey Rocco, Jeff Heath and Roy Cullenbine.

Chicago White Sox—Bill Nagel, back in majors for third time, probably will be shifted from third to first base.

Phillies—Pitchers Louis Lucier and Charley Sproull and catcher Andy Seminick signed.

St. Louis Browns—Pitchers Tex Shirley and Al Hollingsworth bore down hard in batting practice.

Boston Braves—Johnny Hutchings, 260-pound pitcher, hit home run in practice, but fell exhausted as he rounded third. Teammates rushed over, grabbed him by arms and legs and dragged him over home plate.

Boston Red Sox — Outfielder Johnny Lazor, who also can catch, came to terms.

Borowy Signs
New York Giants—A three-game exhibition series was arranged with Bainbridge (Md.) naval team for this week-end. The Navy base will provide transportation.

New York Yankees—Hank Borowy, last year's 17-game winner, signed contract.

Washington — Mickey Haefer joined club.

St. Louis Cards—Lost outfielder Danny Litwiler of Ringtown, Pa., who was inducted into Army for limited service.

Philadelphia Athletics—Jim Pruet, slugging catcher, said he worked off excess fat because he didn't like to see a 208-pounder staring back at him in the mirrors.

Nelson And Snead Tie In Playoff

Charlotte, N. C., March 21 (AP)—Byron Nelson, the leading money winner this year and last, and Sammy Snead, leading tournament winner, continued their golf marathon today for the $10,000 Charlotte open title—a preview of their scheduled National championship meeting in New York later this season.

The two ace shotmakers who have won 10 of the 13 tournaments played on the winter circuit—Snead six and Nelson four—finished all square at the end of their first 18-hole playoff before some 3,000 customers yesterday, after tying at 272 for the regulation 72 holes. Each had a 69, three under par.

ALLEN TOWN AND DONORA VICTORS

Harrisburg, March 21 (AP)—Four surviving class B basketball teams play tonight in the semi-final round of the first statewide tournament ever held for these little schools with the winners moving into the state final on Friday at either Villanova or Allentown.

Springfield, district one title-holder, with the speedy "Bud" Wright sparking the attack, meets McAdoo, district two champion, at the Allentown high school's little Palestra, with the eastern championship at stake.

Conneautville, district ten's "dark horse" contender for the state crown, opposes Gallitzin, district six champion, at Farrell, with the western title going to the winner.

The Springfield-McAdoo clash will bring together two of the best forwards in small school ranks as Wright vies for supremacy with Mickey Felock, ace of the coal region quintet.

The class A tournament reached the finals last night as Allentown and Donora swept to victory over the two "dark horse" survivors in the semi-finals.

Allentown turned back the Radnor "Whiz Kids" by a 38-31 margin, stepping out in a fourth period rush.

Donora continued to show remarkable power by crushing Sharpshooter, 45-20 and now the Dragons move into the state finals at Philadelphia's Convention Hall seeking revenge for district seven against the Canaries who won their last state crown in 1935 at the expense of Rankin, of Pittsburgh.

The history of metal in Canada goes back almost three centuries.
